this morning, and the seven Appellate Judges. in their ermine robes, filed through a small or in the rear and took their places on the bench, one of the largest audiences ever seen in the room was present. At a large table sat the counsel for the people and Sharp's attor-neys. Messrs. McKenzie, Semple, Delancey Nicoll, and Judge George F. Comstock appeared for the people and against the appeal, and W. Bourke Cockran, E. Winslow Paige, and Albert Stickney for Sharp, and favoring

When the Judges had taken their seats Chief Justice Ruger called the case of the People agt. Sharp. The clork responded "Ready." and Mr. Nicoll arcse and asked that the usual time of two hours for argument be extended. He said the questions were so many and the briefs so large that it seemed impossible to argue the case in the allotted time.

Mr. Cockran asked that the time be extended to such time as counsel thought fit.
Chief Justice Ruger said the Court thought Chief Justice Ruger said the Court thought four hours long enough for the oral arguments. By finishing them to-day the Court would have a chance for consultation before adjournment. He motioned to the appellant to proceed.

Mr. Cockran then rose and began the case for Sharp. At first his voice was very low, but when he got warmed up it was clear and distinct. He made the following principal points:

First—That it was an error to admit the testimony of Pottle, Reading Clerk of the Assembly, who testified that Sharp in 1883 attempted to induce him to faisify and after the terms of a bill which had been passed by the Legislature.

procoud—That it was an error to admit the testimony of the decendant given before the Senate committee of investigation.

Third—That it was an error to permit the witness Miller, who had been a member of the Senat of Aldermen in 1884, to be asked what he thought induced De Lacy to hand him $5,000 after he had voted to grant the franchise in question.

Fourth—That the Court erred in permitting proof by the prosecution of the Sight of Moloney, Keenan, De Lacy, Dempsey, and Sayles to Canada.

Mr. Paige confined his argument to the point that it was an error to admit evidence which had been given by the defendants before the committee of the Seuate. He argued that the decision of this matter deponds upon the meaning to be given to section 79 of the Penal Code. Of this section the portion that concerns the argument he quoted follows:

A person ofending against any provision of any of the foregoing sections of this concerns the argument he quoted follows:

A person ofending against any provision of any of the foregoing sections of this code relating to brittery is a competent witness against another person so offending, and may be compelled to attend and testify upon any trial, bearing, proceeding, or investigation in the same manuer as any other person; but testimony so given shall not be used in any prosecution or proceeding, civil or criminal, against the person so testifying.

The contention of the people and the rulings.

manner as any other person; but testimony on free shall not be used in any proceeding, civil or criminal, against the person so testifying.

The contention of the people and the rulings of the courts below are toy the effect that the words "any trial, hearing, proceeding, or investigation," as here used, do not describe the sort of occasion upon which the defendant's testimony before the Senate committee was given. Mr. Paige held that they do describe the sort of occasion. He submitted that the words used are so comprehensive as to impress the ordinary mind that they described every occasion upon which a human being could be sworn and examined as a witness. It is impossible to add any other word which will increase the meaning of the sentence. It is impossible to add any other word which will increase the meaning of the sentence. It is iterally a treemendous sentence. The occasion upon which the defendant gave his testimony was distinctly within the letter of the statute, as it was an investigation. This is apparent by an inspection of the resolution which empowered and directed the Senate investigation. Mr. Paige discussed the investigation resolutions and the law upon the point at great length, and in conclusion held that the case is brought exactly in the letter of the statute. He referred to chanter 742, section 8, of the Laws of 1869, which applies this rule to legislative committees in bribery investigations. The word "investigation" in the statutes of New York prior to 1831 had been used to indicate 120 different things, of which 117 were legislative investigation. These points were onlarged upon at great length. Mr. Paige urged that conclusive proof that the intention was to codify the act of 1869 into the Penai Code is afforded by the notes of the revisers. They distinctly refer to it as the source from which a part of the act is taken.

Mr. Nicoli, for the people, dwelt principally upon the testimony of Sharp before the legislative committee, when problem to vote the fact that the crime of bribery had Judge Comstock, in his argument, enlarged on the admission of the the testimony of Pottle and Sharp before the legislative committee. Half an hour more has been given to each side for argument to-morrow.

BLIND JIMMY GOES UP.

A Well-known Loud-lunged Newsman Sent to the Island for Begging.

James O'Hara, known on Park row for nearly ten years as "Blind Jimmy the newsmonths yesterday in Essex Market Police Court for begging. The complainant was Frank J. Fuchs, a butcher at 172 Delancey Frank J. Fuchs, a butcher at 172 Delancey street. O'Hara is 30 years old, and is weak minded. He could roar like the buil of Bashan, and svery afternoon he made his approach to pedestrians known by pounding on the flagging with a stout cane and roaring an evening paper for sale. It is likely that if James had not been more or less full of whiskey yosterday morning he would not have begged from the butcher, because he (James) had at home an order on the Commissioners of Charities and Correction for supplies as one of the city's out door poor. Mrs. O'Hara is a widow, and she lived with James, who is her only child, in the rear of 63 Bidge street. Mrs. O'Hara is house-keeper for eight of the miserable tenements, in one of which she lives. The Little Judge sent the blind man to the Island because he said, he would be better off there than with his mother. The mother and son cried and prayed in the court room, but the Little Judge would not remit the sentence.

Striking Oil in the Chenange Valley. MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The company of Norwich capitalists that is boring for natural gas and petroleum in the upper Che-nango Valley has a well-down in a ravine south of that town, about 700 feet. Yesterday the of that town, about 700 feet. Yesterday the drill struck a vein of gas that flowed from the mouth of the well with great force and volume, and when lighted flamed up to a height that endangered the decrick. The news of the promising development elated the stockholders and brought large crowds from the surrounding country to the scene. The company is composed of solid men of Norwich, and will thoroughly explore the territory.

The East Fennsylvanis Oil and Gas Company of Meadville, Pa. has leased several thousand acres of lands in the lower Chenango Valley, and is now setting up a derrick for boring a well on the farm of Sheriff Brown, eight miles north of Binghamton.

CUTTING DOWN THE BUDGET.

The Mayer Goes at the Figures with a Mor-citess Pencil and Pad. Sheriff Grant was the first of the city of-Bolais who ran the gauntlet of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment yesterday, and met the Mayor's scrutinizing questions. He estimated $87.800 as the expenses of his office for 1888. First he wanted the fees increased for transporting prisoners. He gets $1.25 each and said the cost was $1.33, and he wanted the Board to allow him $1.50. The Mayor figured away with pencil and pad, and after ciphering good deal and cross-questioning a good deal more on this item and the item for serving jury notices and other items, ag-gregating in all $60,000, the Mayor concluded that about $17,000 should be lopped off, leaving these items at $43,000.

gregating in all $60,000, the Mayor concluded that about $17,000 should be lopped off, leaving these items at $43,000.

The next item was $15,000 for the estimated cost of maintaining the county jail. The present allowance is 60 cents a day for each prisoner. The Sheriff wanted the Board to allow 75 cents for each prisoner, and also items for cost of cleaning and help. The Mayor figured a good deal on his pad. He said:

"Your figures do not cohere: I can't make out, according to your own details, that you need more than $7,000. Call it $8,000."

The Board allowed 70 cents a bead for the prisoners, $3,000 for the salary of the Warden, $7,000 for the seven keepers of the jail, $1,000 for the physician, $1,000 for the engineer, and $800 for the assistant, or $59,800 in allowed, as asked; also $3,600 for these saire, cot the County Clerk Flack asked for $176,850 for Justices, clerks, &c., of the Supreme Court, which was passed. For salaries, &c., of the County Clerk's office $87,250 was allowed, as asked; also $3,600 for three extra clerks to copy indices. The Mayor took occasion to compliment the County Clerk, saying, "Yours is about the only office concerning which I have not received complaints."

"We ought to have more room to accommodate the public," remarked Deputy County Clerk Thomas F. Gilroy.

"Well, there is room on that floor which, you might have," said the Mayor facetiously, "and if you go and take possession of it you will not find the Mayor ofoing anything against it."

The Mayor probably referred to the Judges' kitchen which has the best room on the floor. The Commissioners of Charities and Correction asked for $2,721,152, which was an increase of about $800,000, and they got nearly all but about $17,000 after a most rigorous seruitny of the items. These allowances were made; City Prison, $30,550; Bellevue Hospital and the tree reception hospitals, $135,015; penitentiary, $63,794. For the support of the almahouse $79,868 was asked for an allowed. There was considerable discussion over the tiem of $1

PEARL METCALF LOCKED IN A CELL

Her Lawyer Waives Examination on Mrs Mrs. G. S. Howell, the good-looking young woman who was accused on Wednesday, before Justice Murray in Yorkville Court, of swindling Mrs. Helen E. M. Shaw of 158 West Fifty-fourth atreet out of $300, by pretending to bet the money on race tips given by Vice-President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was locked up yesterday in a cell in the West Fiftyseventh street prison. Lawyer J. Arthur Bar-rett, her counsel, had said on Wednesday that rett, her counsel, had said on Wednesday that he would prove to the Court's satisfaction on Thursday that Mrs. Howell, who was Miss Pearl Metcalf when the alleged awindling began last month, was the innocent victim of a base blackmail scheme. Yesterday morning, however, the, lawyer said that it would take altogether too much time to prove this side of the case, and that he had concluded to waive examination in his client's behalf, and wait until the case reached trial in General Sessions to prove her innocence.

Mr. G. S. Howell, Pearl's husband, who is with the coffee house of Hard & Rand at 107 Wall street, was not in court. Mrs. Shaw produced the alleged bogus telegram, in which Vice-President Cassatt was made to say that he would 'make a good thing' on it e races if Pearl sent him $300, and then Justice Murray said that he would hold Pearl for trial in $2,000 ball. This he subsequently reduced to $1,500, but the bondsman didn't appear, and Pearl was sent to a prison cell. She went there with great self-possession.

It was intimated by Mrs. Shaw's counsel that
